

DAVID L. BLANEY

Professor, Department of Political Science
Macalester College
Saint Paul, MN 55105
(651) 696-6020 (voice mail); 6758 (fax)
blaney@macalester.edu

RESEARCH FIELDS

Political and Social Theory of International Relations/International Political Economy
Culture and Identity in IR/IPE
Political Economic Thought
Democracy, World Politics, and Pedagogy

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

Current Professor, Department of Political Science, Macalester College
 Associate Professor (with tenure) (1997-2006)
 Assistant Professor (1994-97)

2001-02 Visiting Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Iowa

1998-99 Redfield Visiting Professor, The College, University of Chicago

1993-94 Visiting Scholar, Elliott School of International Affairs, George Washington University

1992 Research Associate, Department of Political Science, Providence College, Spring

1989-94 Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Hanover College

1988 Visiting Lecturer, Department of Political Science, University of Port Harcourt, Nigeria, Second Semester

1986-87 Foreign Teacher, College of Economic Administration, Liaoning University, China, August-January

1984-89 Instructor, Department of Political Science, University of Colorado at Denver, and Departments of Political Science and International Studies, University of Denver

EDUCATION

Ph.D. August 1990. Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver. (Dissertation: Individual, Class, and Communism: The Self and Marx's Social and Political Theory. Committee: Alan Gilbert, David P. Levine, Gregg Kvistad).

M.A. June 1983. Graduate School of International Studies (Korbel School), University of Denver.

B.A. May 1980. Department of Political Science, Valparaiso University.

PUBLICATIONS

Books:

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, Savage Economics: Wealth, Poverty, and the Temporal Walls of Capitalism (London: Routledge, 2010).

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, International Relations and the Problem of Difference (New York: Routledge, 2004).

Articles:

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Shed No Tears: Wealth, Race, and Death in Hegel's Necro-Philosophy," in Ritu Vij, ed., Hegelian Encounters in IR (London: Palgrave Macmillan, forthcoming).

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Sovereignty," in B. S. Chimni and Siddharth Mallavarapu, eds., Handbook of Indian International Relations (Pearson India, 2011).

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Liberal Fundamentals: Invisible, Invasive, Artful, and Bloody Hands," International Relations and Development (forthcoming)

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Undressing the Wound of Wealth: Political Economy as a Cultural Project," in Jacqueline Best and Matthew Patterson, eds., Cultural Political Economy (London: Routledge, 2010), 29-47.

"An American IR?" Wuhan Journal of Science and Technology 10:5 (October 2008): 45-49 [Chinese translation by Tao Jiye of lecture given at Jinan University, Guangzhou, China; reprinted in International Politics (January 2009), 65-69; published at People's University, Beijing, China].

"The Responsibilities of Undergraduate Teaching," with Kevin Dunn, Patricia Goff, Jamie Frueh, Eric Leonard, and Simona Sharoni, Journal of Political Science Education 4:4 (2008): 447-62.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "The Rites of Dispossession: Medieval and Modern," in Robbie Shilliam and Gurminder K. Bhambra, eds., Silencing Human Rights: Critical Engagements with a Contested Project (London: Palgrave Macmillan, 2008), 63-84.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "International Relations from Below," in Christian Reus-Smit and Duncan Snidal, eds., Oxford Handbook of International Relations (Oxford University Press, 2008), 663-74.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "The Savage Smith and the Temporal Walls of Capitalism," in Beate Jahn, ed., Classical Theory and International Relations (Cambridge University Press, 2006), 123-54.

"Global Education, Disempowerment, and Curricula for a World Politics," Journal of Studies in International Education 6:3 (2002): 268-282.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Neo-Modernization?: IR and the Inner Life of Modernization Theory," The European Journal of International Relations 8:1 (2002): 103-137.

"Realist Spaces/Liberal Belliciosities: Reading the Democratic Peace as World Democratic Theory," in Tarak Barkawi and Mark Laffey, eds., Democracy, Liberalism, and War: Rethinking the Democratic Peace Debates (Boulder: Lynne Rienner, 2001), 25-44.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "The Westphalian Deferral," International Studies Review 2:2 (September 2000): 29-64. [reprinted in James A. Caporaso, ed., Continuity and Change in the Westphalian Order (Blackwell, 2000)]

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Towards an Ethnological IPE: Karl Polanyi's Double Critique of Capitalism," Millennium 28:2 (1999): 311-340.

Mustapha Kamal Pasha and David L. Blaney, "Elusive Paradise: The Promise and Peril of Global Civil Society," Alternatives 23:4 (October-December 1998): 417-450. [Reprinted in Ronnie D. Lipschutz, ed. Civil Societies and Social Movements: Domestic, Transnational, Global, a volume in the series, "The Library of Essays in International Relations" (Aldershot, UK: Ashgate, 2006)]

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "International Political Economy as a Culture of Competition," in Dominique Jacquin-Berdal, Andrew Oros, and Marco Verweij, eds., Culture in World Politics (London: Macmillan, 1998), 61-88.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Economic Anxiety: Reification, De-Reification and the Politics of IPE," in Kurt Burch and Robert Denemark, eds., Constituting International Political Economy. IPE Yearbook, Vol. 10 (Boulder: Lynne Rienner, 1997), 59-77.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Ethical Diversity and Global Economic Justice," Global Justice 3:3 (October 1996): 13-29.

"Reconceptualizing Autonomy: The Difference Dependency Theory Makes," Review of International Political Economy 3:3 (August 1996): 459-497.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "The Third World and a Problem with Borders," in Mark E. Denham and Mark Owen Lombardi, eds., Perspectives on Third World Sovereignty: The Postmodern Paradox (London: Macmillan, 1996), 83-101.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Knowing Encounters: Beyond Parochialism in International Relations Theory," in Yosef Lapid and Friedrich Kratochwil, eds., The Return of Culture and Identity in IR Theory (Boulder: Lynne Rienner, 1996), 65-84.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Realizing Sovereignty," Review of International Studies 21:1 (January 1995): 3-20.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Prelude to a Conversation of Cultures in International Society? Todorov and Nandy on the Possibility of Dialogue," Alternatives 19:1 (Winter 1994): 23-51.

David L. Blaney and Mustapha Kamal Pasha, "Civil Society and Democracy in the Third World: Ambiguities and Historical Possibilities." Studies in Comparative International Development 28:1 (Spring 1993): 3-24.

"Equal Sovereignty and an African Statehood: Tragic Elements in the African Agenda in World Affairs," in Chih-yu Shih and Martha Cottam, eds., Contending Dramas: A Cognitive Approach to International Organizations (New York: Praeger Press, 1992), 211-226.

David L. Blaney and Song Xiao-chuan, "The IMF and Developing Countries--the Debate on Conditionality," World Economy 7 (1987): 29-35 (in Chinese). World Economy is the journal of the China Society for the Study of World Economy, Beijing, China.

Book Reviews and Other:

Review of Christopher Coker, War and the Illiberal Conscience, Political Science Quarterly 114:3 (Fall 1999).

Julie Bunn (with David L. Blaney), "To Trade or not to Trade: The Basel Convention and Transboundary Movement and Disposal of Hazardous Wastes." Pew Case Studies in International Affairs No. 219, Institute for the Study of Diplomacy, Georgetown University, 1997.

"Nostalgia/Forgetting/Hope," Macalester International 1 (Fall 1995).

"What can we mean by 'the People'?": A Response to Galtung," Macalester International 1 (Spring 1995).

Review of Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., The Disuniting of America, New Political Science No. 28/29 (Winter-Spring 1994).

“Gramscian Readings of the Post-Cold War Transition.” Review of Stephen Gill, ed., Gramsci, Historical Materialism and International Relations, Mershon International Studies Review 1:2 (1994).

WORK IN PROGRESS

Books:

Arlene Tickner and David L. Blaney, eds., Thinking the International Differently (Routledge: forthcoming)

Arlene Tickner and David L. Blaney, eds., Claiming International Relations (Routledge, forthcoming).

Articles and Chapters:

(with Naeem Inayatullah) “The Dark Heart of Kindness: The Social Construction of Deflection,” for the project, “Norms, Nomos, and Normalization?” organized by Charlotte Epstein and Jacqui True.

(with Naeem Inayatullah) entry on “liberalism” for Diccionario de Ciencia Politica (University of Concepción)

(with Naeem Inayatullah) “Hobbes and the Boundaries of Liberalism”

“Good Christian, Bad Christian: Hobbes’ policing of political identity”

“The Virtues of Incomplete Theodicy: Adam Smith on Moral Evil and Economic Life”

“Optimization and the Repression of Theodicy”

“Inventing Liberal Internationalism: John Millar on Markets, Reform and Empire”

Rebecca Sheff (with David L. Blaney), “Embedded Remittances: The Transnational Social Spaces of Moridyya Development Strategies”

PAPERS AND PRESENTATIONS

Conference Participation:

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “The Dark Heart of Kindness: Norms Constructivism as Deflection,” for the International Studies Association workshop, “Interrogating the Use of Norms in International Relations,” Montreal, Canada, March 15, 2011.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “The Dark Heart of Kindness: Norms Constructivism as Deflection,” for the workshop, “Norms, nomos, and normalization? Interrogating the Use of Norms in International Relations,” Department of Government and International Relations, University Sydney, Australia, March 18-19, 2010 (presented by Naeem).

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “Temporal Assimilation versus Alternative Historical Forms in Marx’s Understanding of Difference,” International Studies Association, New Orleans, LA, February 17-20, 2010.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, “Thinking IR from Below (and Beyond)?” International Studies Association, New Orleans, LA, February 17-20, 2010.

Discussant, panel on "IR's Worlding and Alternative World Claims," International Studies Association, New Orleans, LA, February 17-20, 2010.

Participant, roundtable on "The Postmodern and the Postcolonial in International Relations," International Studies Association, New Orleans, LA, February 17-20, 2010.

Discussant, panel on "The Multiple Faces of the Everyday: Resistance, Consumption, Identity," International Studies Association, New Orleans, LA, February 17-20, 2010.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Liberal Fundamentals: Invisible, Invasive, Artful, and Bloody Hands," ABRI-ISA conference, Pontifical Catholic University, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, July 22-24, 2009.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, "Liberal Fundamentals: Invisible, Invasive, Artful, and Bloody Hands," International Studies Association, New York, NY, February 14-18, 2009.

Discussant, panel on "Pluralizing the Past and Present, Transforming the Future: Ashis Nandy, International Relations and the Retrieval of Lost Selves," International Studies Association, New York, NY, February 14-18, 2009.

Roundtable on Blaney and Inayatullah book manuscript, "Savage Economics," Northeast International Studies Association, Baltimore, MD, October 3-4, 2008.

Discussant, panel on "The Politics of Meaning," Northeast International Studies Association, Baltimore, MD, October 3-4, 2008.

Discussant, panel on "Hegel and IR after the Cultural Turn," International Studies Association, San Francisco, CA, March 26-28, 2008.

Discussant, panel on "Postcolonial Thinking, International Political Economy and Development Studies," International Studies Association, San Francisco, CA, March 26-8, 2008.

David Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Savage Times: The 'Past' as Critical Present," International Studies Association, San Francisco, CA, March 26-28, 2008.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, "Liberal Fundamentals: Invisible, Invasive, Artful, and Bloody Hands," Workshop on "Revising the Theoretical and Political Status of Liberal Internationalism," San Francisco, CA, March 25, 2008.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Undressing the Wound of Wealth: The Cultural Constitution of Political Economy." Workshop on Cultural Political Economy," Ottawa, Canada, June 15-17, 2007.

Participant, workshop on Post-Hegemonic IR, Chicago, IL March 3 and 4, 2007.

David Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Hegel's Necro-Philosophy: Wealth, Race, Death," International Studies Association, Chicago, IL, February 28-March 3, 2007.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, Chairs and conveners, Roundtable on Scholarly Responsibility and Difference, International Studies Association, Chicago, IL, February 28-March 3, 2007.

Chair, panel on "Post-Hegemonic Scholarship I: Alterity, Constructions of Self and Other, and Order," International Studies Association, Chicago, IL, February 28-March 3, 2007.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, "Hegel's Necro-Philosophy: Wealth, Race, Death," ISA Northeast, Boston, MA, November 9-11, 2006.

Chair, panel on "Islam as an Autonomous 'Civilization' versus Islam as Part of a Larger World-Civilization," Islam and the Modern Orientalist World-System, 30th Annual Conference on the Political Economy of the World-System, Macalester College, St. Paul, MN, April 27-29, 2006.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, "Undressing the Wound of Wealth: The Cultural Constitution of Political Economy," International Studies Association, San Diego, March 10-12, 2006.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, "Undressing the Wound of Wealth: The Cultural Constitution of Political Economy," Studies in Political Economy Conference, Toronto, Canada, February 23-25, 2006.

David Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Scottish Political Economy and its Other," World International Studies Committee Conference, Istanbul, Turkey, August 24-27, 2005.

Discussant, panel on "Theory Reconsidered I," World International Studies Committee Conference, Istanbul, Turkey, August 24-27, 2005.

Discussant, panel on "Heterology as IR: Discourses of Islam," 5th Pan-European IR Conference, The Hague, September 7-9, 2004.

David Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "IPE and the Primitive: The Indians, the Scots, and the Economy," 5th Pan-European IR Conference, The Hague, September 7-9, 2004.

Discussant, panel on "Geo-Cultural Epistemologies in IR: Thinking Authority Differently," International Studies Association, Montreal, Canada, March 17-20, 2004.

Chair and panelist, "The Burden of American IR Theory II: 'Second-Order Hegemony' and Dissenting Voices," International Studies Association, Montreal, Canada, March 17-20, 2004.

Participant, panel on "Bringing Practice Back In: Iver Neumann after the Linguistic Turn," International Studies Association, Montreal Canada, March 17-20, 2004.

David Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Traveling with the Scots," International Studies Association, Montreal, Canada, March 17-20, 2004.

Panel dedicated to Inayatullah and Blaney, International Relations and the Problem of Difference, British International Studies Association, Birmingham, UK, December 15-17, 2003.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, "Towards Multiple and Overlapping Sovereignties," International Studies Association, Portland, OR, February 26-March 1, 2003.

Chair, panel on "Dissenting Knowledge I: Knowledge Theory," International Studies Association, Portland, OR, February 26-March 1, 2003.

Discussant, panel on "You Want Fries with that Shake? Violence, Instability, and Development," International Studies Association, Portland, OR, February 26-March 1, 2003.

David Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, "Dialogue, Difference, and Equality," British International Studies Association, London, UK, December 16-18, 2002.

NE/ISA Circle Panel: International Relations and the Problem of Difference by Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, Northeast International Studies Association, Providence, RI, November 7-9, 2002.

Chair, panel on "Karl Polanyi's 'Great Transformation': Theoretical and Conceptual Critiques," International Studies Association, New Orleans, LA, March 24-27, 2002.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, "Introduction: IR and the Problem of Difference," International Studies Association, New Orleans, LA, March 24-27, 2002.

Discussant, International Studies Association Workshop on "Identity and IR," New Orleans, LA, March 23, 2002.

“Global Education, Disempowerment, and the Possibility of World Politics,” for the conference, Globalizing Education at Liberal Arts Colleges, Roanoke College, Roanoke, VA, November 2-4, 2001.

Naeem Inayatullah and David Blaney, “IR and the Problem of Difference: A Roundtable on Blaney and Inayatullah.” Organized as part of series “Towards a Post-Western International Studies,” 4th Pan-European International Relations Conference, European Consortium for Political Research, University of Kent, Canterbury, UK, September 8-10, 2001

“Neo-Modernization?” for the International Studies Association conference on “Globalization and its Challenges in the 21st Century,” Hong Kong, July 26-28, 2001.

Discussant, panel on “Outside the Economic Whale: Globalization, Culture, Resistance,” for the International Studies Association conference on “Globalization and its Challenges in the 21st Century,” Hong Kong, July 26-28, 2001.

Discussant, “The Future of Poverty,” key theme panel featuring Ashis Nandy, International Studies Association, Chicago, IL, February 20-24, 2001.

Discussant, panel on “Historical Redress,” International Studies Association, Chicago, IL, February 20-24, 2001.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, “The Problem of Comparison or The Two-Handed Choke: International Relations and Modernization Theory as Mutually Constitutive of the Modern Political Imagination,” International Studies Association, Los Angeles, CA, March 14-18, 2000.

Discussant, panel on “Critical Perspectives on Transnational Corporations and Foreign Investment,” International Studies Association, Los Angeles, CA, March 14-18, 2000.

David L. Blaney and Mustapha K. Pasha, “The (In)Civility of Global Civil Society,” for the workshop, “Global Civil Society/Global Democracy,” Rutgers University, Newark, NJ, June 4-5, 1999.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, “Beyond Comparison? Whither Sovereignty?: Reflections on the Mutual Constitution of IR Theory and Modernization Theory,” International Studies Association, Washington, DC, 16-20 February, 1999.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, “Dialogical Criticism and International Theory,” British International Studies Association, University of Sussex, U.K., December 14-16, 1998.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, “Dialogical Criticism and International Theory,” International Studies Association-Northeast, Boston, MA, November 12-14, 1998.

“The Liberal Peace, the Other, and the Limits of Liberal Democratic Discourse,” for the workshop, “Democracy, the Use of Force, and Global Social Change,” May 1998.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “Resisting Allies: Karl Polanyi’s Double Critique of the Political Economy of Development,” International Studies Association, Minneapolis, MN, March 17-21, 1998.

Discussant, panel on “Westphalia in the Non-Western World,” International Studies Association, Minneapolis, MN, March 17-21, 1998.

Chair and discussant, panel on “Sovereignty and Global Development,” International Studies Association, Minneapolis, MN, March 17-21, 1998.

Chair and discussant, panel on “Reconceptualizing Civil Society at the Domestic, Transnational and Global Levels,” International Studies Association, Toronto, Ontario, March 18-22, 1997.

“International Society, (Global) Civil Society, and the Problem of Difference,” International Studies Association, San Diego, CA, April 16-20, 1996.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “Economic Anxiety: Reification, De-Reification, and the Politics of IPE,” International Studies Association, San Diego, CA, April 16-20, 1996.

Chair, panel on “Global Development: Ethnicity, Nationalism, and Migration,” International Studies Association, San Diego, CA, April 16-20, 1996.

“Culture and IPE,” for the roundtable, “The Return of Culture and Identity in International Relations Theory,” International Studies Association, Chicago, IL, February 21-25, 1995.

Chair and discussant, panel on “The Principle of Sovereignty in Theory and Practice,” International Studies Association, Chicago, IL, February 21-25, 1995.

Participant in the colloquium, “Culture and the Construction of Insecurity,” sponsored by the SSRC/MacArthur Foundation and hosted by the University of Minnesota, October 27-30, 1994, and Kent State University, April 28-30, 1995.

“Cultural Neutrality and the Emergence of International Governance,” American Political Science Association, New York, NY, September 1-4, 1994.

David L. Blaney and Naeem Inayatullah, “The IPE as a Culture of Competition,” International Studies Association, Washington, D.C., March 28-April 1, 1994.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “Knowing Encounters: Towards an IR Theory of Cultural Contact,” Western Political Science Association, Albuquerque, NM, March 10-12, 1994.

David L. Blaney and Hon Tze-ki, “Pan-Africanism and African (Dis)Unity: The Hermeneutics of Difference in International Society,” American Political Science Association, Washington, D.C., Sept. 2-5, 1993.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “Knowing Encounters: From Waltz and Wendt to a Theory of Intercultural Interaction,” American Political Science Association, Washington, D.C., Sept. 2-5, 1993.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “Realizing Sovereignty,” for the colloquium, “Problems Without Borders: Perspectives on Third World Sovereignty,” The University of Toledo, Toledo, OH, April 23-25, 1993.

Sherry Gray and David L. Blaney, “Shenyang as a Site for Bombarding the Headquarters: Localizing and Nationalizing Processes in China’s Cultural Revolution,” for the Northeast China Studies Association roundtable, Association of Asian Studies, Los Angeles, CA, March 26, 1993.

“Reconceptualizing Autonomy: Dependency Theory and the Ethics of Sovereignty,” American Political Science Association, Chicago, IL, Sept. 3, 1992.

Naeem Inayatullah and David L. Blaney, “Purpose and Process: A Cultural Basis for World Political Economy,” International Studies Association, Atlanta, GA, April 4, 1992.

Mustapha K. Pasha and David L. Blaney, “The Emergence of World Culture? Democracy, Civil Society, and the State in the Third World,” International Studies Association, Vancouver, B.C., March 20, 1991.

David L. Blaney and Mustapha K. Pasha, “Open Door Democracy? The Role of Self, Civil Society, and International Capitalism in the Democracy Movement of 1989,” Association for Asian Studies, Chicago, IL, April 7, 1990.

“Communism and Individuality: G.A. Cohen and the Problem of the Self in Marx’s Vision of Communism,”

Midwest Political Science Association, Chicago, IL, April 7, 1990.

“The Misplacement of the Individual in the Marxian Discourse on African Socialism: The Case of Tanzanian Ujamaa,” African Studies Association, Denver, CO, November 21, 1987.

Donald E. Parker and David L. Blaney, “Water Management, Land Tenure and Agricultural Development in Pakistan,” Atlantic Economic Society Conference, Washington, D.C., August 29-September 1, 1985.

Invited Lectures and Presentations:

“Liberal Fundamentals: Invisible, Invasive, Artful, and Bloody Hands,” Minnesota International Relations Colloquium,” University of Minnesota, January 25, 2010.

“Re-reading the Meaning of Westphalia,” Center for American Studies, Fudan University, Shanghai, China, May 29, 2008.

“An American IR?” Department of International Relations, Jinan University, Guangzhou, China, May 21, 2008.

Presenter, “Workshop on Interpretive and Relational Methodologies,” International Studies Association/Northeast, Boston, MA, November 9-11, 2006.

“The Savage Smith and the Temporal Walls of Capitalism,” Minnesota International Relations Colloquium,” University of Minnesota, October 9, 2006.

Seminar Session on Inayatullah and Blaney, International Relations and the Problem of Difference, in Political Science 3835 (Kurt Burch), “International Relations,” University of Minnesota, April 15, 2006.

Seminar Session on Inayatullah and Blaney, International Relations and the Problem of Difference, in Political Science 8408 (Raymond Duvall), “International Hierarchies” University of Minnesota, April 12, 2005.

“IR and the Inner Logic of Modernization Theory,” Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver, Denver, CO, April 15, 2004.

“Reflections on Teaching at a Liberal Arts College, Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver, Denver, CO, April 15, 2004.

(with Naeem Inayatullah) “Reflections on International Relations and the Problem of Difference,” American University, Washington, DC, September 26, 2003.

(with Sherry Gray), “Glimpses of Iran: Politics in Tehran Leading up to the Elections,” for International Mondays Lecture, International Center, University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA, March 26, 2001.

Instructor, three-day seminar on “Democracy and Human Rights,” as part of “Strengthening the Capacities of Training and Research on Human Rights Project,” Center for Human Rights Studies, Faculty of Law and Political Science, University of Tehran, Tehran, Iran, January 13-15, 2001. Funded by the United Nations Development Program.

“Mapping the Terrain of Global Civil Society,” Center for Graduate International Studies, Faculty of Law and Political Science, University of Tehran, Tehran, Iran, June 12, 2000.

“The Westphalian Deferral,” for the International Relations Colloquium, Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, December 9, 1999.

“Drama as a Site of a Conversation of Cultures?” for the seminar, “The Problem and Possibilities of Intercultural Theatre,” Dramatic Arts and Dance, Macalester College, St. Paul, MN, May 8, 1999.

“The Promise and Peril of Global Civil Society,” Institute of World Economics and Politics, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Beijing, China, May 6, 1999.

“Beyond Western Parochialism in IR Theory?” Peoples University, Beijing, China, May 5, 1999.

“A Conversation of Cultures in International Society?” Department of English and International Studies, Foreign Affairs College, Beijing, China, May 4, 1999.

“A Conversation of Cultures in International Society?” Department of International Politics, Center for American Studies, Fudan University, Shanghai, China, April 30, 1999.

“Realist Spaces/Liberal Belliciosities: Reading the Democratic Peace as World Democratic Theory,” Program for International Politics, Security, and Economics, University of Chicago, January 7, 1999.

“Global Civil Society: Are we on the Verge of Global Democracy?,” Department of Political Science and Foreign Affairs Club, Benedictine University, October 21, 1998.

“Economic Anxiety,” for the International Relations Colloquium, Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, April 1, 1997.

“Culture and Development: Mapping the Terrain.” The 22nd In-House Seminar, UN Centre for Regional Development, Nagoya, Japan, January 20, 1997.

“Ethical Diversity and Global Economic Justice,” for the International Relations Colloquium, Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, March 6, 1996.

“The Difference Dependency Theory Makes,” for the International Relations Colloquium, Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, May 3, 1995.

“Democracy in Africa and the End of History?” Political Science Lecture Series, Providence College, March 17, 1992.

“Civil Society and the New Democratic Social Movements,” with Mustapha K. Pasha, for a seminar sponsored by the Consortium on Rights Development, Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver, August 2, 1991.

“The Middle East and a New World Order,” as part of a teach-in to commemorate Martin Luther King, Jr., Valparaiso University, January 21, 1991.

“An Intellectual Map of African Studies with Special Reference to the Place of African Socialism in Africanist Discourse,” Institute of West Asian and African Studies, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Beijing, January 12, 1987.

TEACHING RESPONSIBILITIES

Current:

- Foundations of International Politics
- Development Politics
- Work, Wealth, and Well Being
- Global Political Economy
- Advanced Theories of International Relations
- Paradigms of Global Citizenship
- Senior Research Seminar

Previous:

Foundations of Political Theory
Culture and Identity in World Politics
Democracy and World Politics
War and Peace
International Law and Organization
Research Methods
U.S. Politics
Introduction to Political Science
Political Science Honors Colloquium

SERVICE

Professional Service:

Editorial Advisory Board for: (1) Routledge series "Worlding Beyond the West," 2009-; (2) Iranian Review of Foreign Affairs, 2008-; (3) IPE Yearbook, Lynne Rienner Press, 2001-present; (4) series on "International Relations in a Constructed World," M.E. Sharpe, 1999-present.

Manuscript Reviewer for: International Studies Perspectives (2010, 2003[2], 2002, 2001, 2000); Journal of International Relations and Development (2010, 2009 [2]); Palgrave Press (2010, 2004); International Studies Association Compendium (2009); Cambridge Review of International Affairs (2009); Routledge (2009 [2], 2008, 2007 [2], 2006 [4]); Rowman and Littlefield (2009); International Political Sociology (2008, 2007); Millennium (2008, 2004, 1999); International Studies Review (2008); E.J. Brill (2008); International Studies Quarterly (2008, 2007, 2005[2], 2004, 2000, 1998); Comparative Political Studies (2007); European Journal of International Relations (2006, 2005, 2001, 2000, 1998); SUNY Press (2006); Security Dialogue (2006); Foreign Policy Analysis (2006); New Political Science (2005, 2004, 2003, 1996, 1994); Review of International Studies (2003); IPE Yearbook (2002); M.E. Sharpe (2001); Lynne Rienner Press (2000); Review of International Political Economy (1999, 1997); The Journal of African Policy Studies (1996); Africa Today (1992).

Mentor, Preparing Future Faculty Program, University of Minnesota : Fall 2010 (Ralitsa Donkova); Spring 2010 (Zhang Zhenqing); Spring 2008 (Lauren Wilcox); Fall 1999 (Bahar Rumelili); Fall 1996 (Ethan Cherrin).

International Studies Association Executive Committee member (2000-01).

Associate Program Chair, 42nd Annual Convention of the International Studies Association (theme: International Relations and the New Inequality), Chicago, IL, February 20-24, 2001.

International Studies Association Governing Council and Chair, Global Development Section, 1997-98.

Committee on Career Development and Job Placement, International Studies Association, 1997-98. Appointed by James Caporaso, President of ISA.

External Tenure/Promotion Reviewer for:

Hobart and William Smith, 2010
University of Sussex, 2008
Vassar College, 2007
Vassar College, 2006
Whitman College, 2004
Lawrence University, 2004
American University, 2002
DePaul University, 2001
DePaul University, 2000
Kalamazoo College, 2000

University of Hawaii, 1999
Hope College, 1997

Dissertation Committees:

Tamara Trowsell, School of International Service, American University, 2003–

Jenny Lobasz, University of Minnesota, 2010–

Undergraduate Honors Projects Supervised:

Amanda Janoo, “In Rebellion Against Market Society: Self-regulating Market Discourse, the International Trade Regime and Labor Market Organization,” May 2010.

Piera von Glahn, “Farmers, Farm Animals, and Farm Animal Rights: Re-Invisioning the US Farm Animal Rights Movement,” May 2010.

David Seitz, “Rondo Matters: The Politics of Injury, Representation and Neoliberalization on Minneapolis-St. Paul’s Central Corridor,” May 2010 [best Honors project, Department of Political Science].

Rebecca Sheff, “The Problem with Eating Money: Remittances and Development in Senegal’s Muridiyya,” May 2009 [best Honors project, Department of Political Science].

Trudy Rebert, “Immigrant or Latino? Multi-Ethnic Mobilization and Collective Identity in the Immigrant Rights Movement,” May 2007.

Kellan Anfinson, “Critical Leap: Nietzschean Politics in the Era of Secular Capitalism,” May 2006 [best Honors project, Department of Political Science].

Sarah Detzner, “More Things in Heaven and Earth: Examining Democratization in the Middle East,” May 2006.

Denna Millet, “Education and Women’s Empowerment in Diverse Islamic Socio-Political Contexts: A Comparison of Egypt and Iran,” May 2006.

Tobias Pforr, “Individual Decision Making in Neoclassical Economics: A Historical Exploration into its Scientific and Metaphorical Status,” May 2006.

Graham Ravdin, “The Paradoxical Sovereignty Frame and Democracy in Ecuador,” May 2006.

Kara Bovee, “Can’t We All Just Get Along? Modernization, Identity, and Violence,” May 2005.

Milla Vidina, “Toward Post-Modern Welfare: Retrieving the Relationality of Property,” May 2005.

Michael Okrob, “The Business of Doing Good: The Global Compact and Corporate Social Responsibility in Minnesota,” February 2005.

Bibek Pandey, “Maoist Insurgency and Nepali Women,” May 2004 [best Honors project, Department of Political Science].

Beth Neitzel, “Violent Democracy: Reconciling the Coexistence of Institutional Democracy and Violence in Colombia” May 2003 [best Honors project, Department of Political Science; Pi Sigma Alpha, Best Paper, 2nd Prize, 2003; American Academy of Political and Social Science, Undergraduate Research Award, 2005].

Tyler Beckelman, “The Merging of Development and Security and the Problem of Small Arms,” May 2003.

Kristen Harkness, "Encountering Globalization: India and the Transformative Politics of Environmentalism," May 2002.

James Salee, "Dialogue and Development: An Applied Approach to Mikhail Bakhtin and Cross-Cultural Dialogue," December 2001.

Joel Ulrich, "Organizational Alliances: Promoting or Provoking Democratic Participation," May 2000.

Molly Brandt, "Religion and Resistance: The Church, Politics, and Social Change in Nicaragua, 1968-1999," May 2000.

Christopher Teske, "Identifying the Enemy in the New World Order," May 1997.

Sara Brewer, "Democratization in the Southern Cone: Reflections on Political Change in Argentina and Chile," May 1996.

Aron Goldman, "Rethinking Universalism and Pluralism in International Human Rights," May 1996.

Kyle Fennell, "Commonality and Difference: Germany, Czechoslovakia, and the Politics of Identity," May 1995.

Rebecca Stewart, "Thinking Locally, Acting Globally: Suggestions for the Role of Interest in International Politics," May 1995.

College and Community Service:

Connected Colleagues mentoring program, Center for Scholarship and Teaching, Macalester College, 2010-11; 2009-10.

Panel on "Advice for New Chairs, Center for Scholarship and Teaching, Macalester College, August 26, 2009.

Chair, Department of Political Science, Macalester College, 2008-09.

Chair, Mitau Endowed Lecture Committee (speakers organized: Derrick Bell, March 2007; Alexander Wendt, April 2008; Wendy Brown, February 2009; Paul Light, 2010).

Panel on "Undergraduate Advising," Preparing Future Faculty program, University of Minnesota, November 14, 2007.

Affirmative Action Committee, Macalester College, 2007-08, 2003-05.

Chair, Department of Political Science, Fall 2004-Spring 2006.

Advisory Committee on Multiculturalism, Center for Scholarship and Teaching, Macalester College, AY 2006-07.

Search Committees, Macalester College: Political Science: 2008-09 [Co-chair]; 2005-06 [2, Chair]; 2004-05 [Chair], 2003-04, 2002-03 [Chair]; 2000-01; 1999-00; 1997-98; 1996-97; 1995-96; 1994-95; Environmental Studies, 2004-05; Geography: 2003-04.

Chair and Discussant, panel on "Political Culture and Theory," Midwest Undergraduate Political Science Research Conference, University of Minnesota, Morris, March 4, 2005.

Committee, Lilly Symposium on Work and Ethics, Macalester College, 2003-04.

Project on Piloting a new Addendum, Center for Scholarship and Teaching, Macalester College, 2002-2004.

Discussion Leader, Drake Round Table Discussion, Iowa Youth Symposium on the United Nations, Des Moines, IA, October, 23, 2001.

Benefits Advisory Committee, Macalester College, 2000-01.

Acting Chair, Department of Political Science, Macalester College, Fall 1999.

Organized donation of books to University Library, University of Zimbabwe, Harare, Zimbabwe, Spring 1998.

Faculty Mentor, International Students Office, Fall 1997.

Sub-committee on Individually Developed Majors, Macalester College, 1996-1997.

Ad-Hoc Committee on Reviewing the Honors Program, Macalester College, Spring 1997.

Ad-Hoc Group on the Upper-Division Curriculum, Macalester College, Fall 1996.

President's Ad-Hoc Committee on Retention, Macalester College, 1994-1995.

Hanover College Committee on Peace and Justice, 1990-1994.

Faculty Development Committee, Hanover College, 1990-1992.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

January Professional Activities Workshop (Effective Classroom Discussions; Lecturing with Pizzazz!), Macalester College, January 20, 2010.

Participant, Humanities working group on secularism, Macalester College, calendar year 2009.

FaCe Faculty Assessment Workshop, Lake Forest College, Chicago, IL, October 24-5, 2008.

US Institute of Peace seminar, "Global Peace and Security from Multiple Perspectives," Washington, D.C., July 10-12, 2007.

Faculty Seminar on Secularism and Questions of Meaning and Value, Macalester College, 2006-08.

Participant, Leadership Seminar, Center for Scholarship and Teaching, Macalester College, 2004-05

Participant, reading group on the liberal arts, Center for Scholarship and Teaching, Macalester College, 2002-2003.

Participant, "Globalizing Education at Liberal Arts Colleges: Best Practices, Models for the Future," Roanoke College, Salem VA, November 2-4, 2001.

Participant, Midwest Faculty Seminar, "Rationality and Rational Choice," University of Chicago, October 26-27, 1997.

Participant, "Writing Across the Curriculum," the Collaboration for the Advancement of College Teaching and Learning, Macalester College, April 19, 1997.

Participant, Macalester College faculty exchange with Miyagi University, Sendai, Japan, January 4-26, 1997.

Participant, ACM Workshop "Postcolonialism: Terminologies and Teaching," Grinnell College, September 20-22, 1996.

Participant, Bush Base Group, "Case Learning," Macalester College, Spring 1996.

Participant, Macalester College Faculty Development International Seminar, "Transition and Globalization in Central and East Europe," Budapest, Hungary, July 8-30, 1995.

Participant, "Teaching Techniques and Strategies: Reviving the Classroom," American Sociological Association Teaching Services Program Workshop, Cincinnati, OH, February 26-28, 1993.

HONORS, AWARDS, GRANTS

Mellon Curricular Pathways grant for preparing POLI 363 "Paradigms of Global Citizenship," Summer 2009.

Wallace grant for research on Chinese IR, Macalester College, May-June 2008.

Difficult Dialogues Project (Ford Foundation supported), for revising first-year seminar course for Fall 2007, summer 2007.

Presidential Initiative for Curriculum Renewal (revisions to Foundations of International Politics to support quantitative thinking requirement), Macalester College, summer 2006.

Lilly grant for course development (on work in the non-profit sector, with alumnus Fernando Furquim), Macalester College, summer 2005.

Quantitative Methods for Public Policy Analysis grant for case development ("Measuring Poverty," with Trudy Rebert '08), Macalester College, summer 2005.

Wallace Faculty Travel Grants, Macalester College, AY 2008-09, 2005-06, 2004-05, 2003-04, 2002-03, 2001-02, 2000-01, 1998-99, 1997-98, 1996-97, 1995-96, 1994-1995.

Civic Engagement Grant (on poverty and property rights, with Milla Vidina '06), Macalester College, summer 2004.

Lilly Course Development Grant (Work, Wealth and Well-Being), Macalester College, 2001-02.

Faculty Development Grants, Hanover College, AY 1992-93, 1991-92, 1990-91, 1989-90.

Dissertation Defense, "with Distinction," Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver, March 1990.

Comprehensive Exams passed "with Distinction," Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver, May 1983.

Elizabeth Facht Graduate Fellowship, Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver, 1981-1982.

University of Denver Fellowship, Graduate School of International Studies, University of Denver, 1980-81.

Graduation "with High Distinction," Valparaiso University, May 1980.

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

International Studies Association (USA)

British International Studies Association (periodically)

European Consortium for Political Research (periodically)

American Political Science Association (1984-2004)

REFERENCES

Professor Robert Denmark
Department of Political Science and International Relations
344 Smith Hall
University of Delaware
Newark, DE 19716
(302) 831-2009
denemark@udel.edu

Professor Charles Green (retired)
Department of Political Science
Macalester College
1600 Grand Avenue
St. Paul, MN 55105
(612) 696-6481
green@macalester.edu

Professor Naeem Inayatullah
Department of Politics
Ithaca College
Ithaca, NY 14850
(607) 274-3028
naeem@ithaca.edu

Peter Mandaville
Director, Center for Global Affairs
Associate Professor, Political Science
4400 University Drive
MS 1B9
George Mason University
Fairfax, VA 22030-4444
(703) 993 1054
pmandavi@gmu.edu

Professor Nicholas G. Onuf (retired)
Department of International Relations
Florida International University
University Park, DM 499
Miami, FL 33199
(305) 348-2556
onufn@servax.fiu.edu

Professor R. B. J. Walker
School of Politics, International Relations, and Environment
Keele University
Keele, Staffordshire, ST5 5BG
England, UK
r.b.j.walker@keele.ac.uk

OR

Political Science
University of Victoria
PO Box 3050 STN CSC
Cornett 323, 3800 Finnerty Road
Victoria, BC V8W 3P5
Canada
(250) 472-5468