SJSU ALUMNUS RETIRES AS HIGHEST-RANKING FILIPINO AMERICAN

Edward Soriano, San Jose State alumnus, was the first Filipino-American to become a General Officer in the United States Army. When he retired as Lieutenant General in March 2005, he was the highest-ranking Asian-American serving in the Armed Forces at that time. The General comes from a distinguished military background. His father, Fred Soriano, served as a non-commissioned officer in the 57th Infantry Regiment, Philippine Scouts, was captured by the Japanese invaders and survived the infamous Bataan Death March and years as a prisoner of war.

The elder Soriano served again in the Korean War, where he was again a POW. General Soriano graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Business Management in 1970 from San Jose State and received his commission through SJSU's Army ROTC

SJSU TO HIRE VETERAN COORDINATOR, BUT DECISION ON VET CENTER STILL ON HOLD

Art King, Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, in charge of veterans matters, has announced that the university will be hiring a Coordinator of Military Affairs and Veteran Services, to be hired over the summer and in place in Fall of 2013. This full-time position is intended to work with the veteran community, military students, and spouses and dependents. Priority will be given to a veteran for this position.

At the same time, Art announced that Student Affairs has decided until the Veteran Coordinator is in place, before moving ahead with definitive plans for a Veteran Center.

VETERANS AND SUPPORTERS ADVOCATE FOR VET CENTER IN NEW STUDENT UNION

The Veteran Students Organization and the Friends of Spartan Veterans, are advocating for a Veteran Center in the new $92 million Student Union being built on campus. This initiative has been covered by San Jose State University media. Here are links to articles from the Spartan Daily newspaper:

<http://spartandaily.com/95760/veterans-and-supporters-petition-for-veteran-center> and the SJSU television show, Update News (<http://www.sjsu.edu/at/atn/webcasting/archives/UpdateNews/updatesnews-spring13/index.html>)

The university administration's attitude to the proposed Vet Center is the subject of a Open Letter in the Spartan Daily by Dr. Jonathan Roth of the History Department:

WORLD WAR ONE HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION MEETS AT SJSU

Nearly thirty members of the San Francisco Bay Area Chapter of the World War One Historical Association (WW1HA) enjoyed an excellent meeting on Saturday, March 9, at San Jose State University's Burdick Military History Project library. Eric Narveson, Associate Director of the Burdick Military History Project, spoke on Static Warfare before and after the Great War, with examples from the Crimea, American Civil War, Russo-Japanese War and the Blitzkrieg of 1939-1940 (as a counter-example that the Germans developed out of their experiences of static warfare in the Great War), the Korean War, Iran-Iraq war (pictures of these last two were eerily reminiscent of the Western Front), and Afghanistan today.

This is a new venue for WW1HA and the group plans to hold at least two more meetings there, plus start planning for potential Symposia at SJSU during the Centennial years 2014-2018.

PANEL ON PAKISTANI NUCLEAR PROGRAM
