

Lindsay A. Lazarski

172 Thompson Street, #20, New York, NY 10012 • 917-312-9830 • lindsay.lazarski@journalism.cuny.edu

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

United Nations, New York, N.Y.

Radio/Web Producer Intern

June 2009 – August 2009

- ›Wrote, edited, and produced short feature stories for daily broadcasts and weekly magazine shows
- ›Wrote daily news stories for daily broadcast and web content
- ›Interviewed various experts, political leaders, and distinguished visitors to the United Nations
- ›Created audio slideshows from existing media and posted daily content to the web.
- ›Researched long term projects for programming such as climate change, and the food crisis

Mott Haven Village Preparatory High School, Bronx, N.Y.

September 2004 – June 2008

Ninth Grade English Teacher

- ›Taught and managed 90 students in a new, urban, small high school setting
- ›Created and developed unit and daily lesson plans for students varying in skill levels, learning styles, including a Collaborative Team Teaching class that addressed students with special needs
- ›Advised 15-20 students to ensure academic success and develop life skills
- ›Created photography mentoring program that teamed freshman and senior students together to build community within school and provide students with an extra and alternative support network
- ›Member of East Side House Scholarship Committee; tasks included developing scholarship criteria, reviewing applications, and disseminating $50,000 to Mott Haven students
- ›Selected to the planning committee for the Bronx Academy of Applied Science and Technology as English Language Arts curriculum leader.

EDUCATION

City University of New York Graduate School of Journalism, New York, New York

Master of Arts, anticipated December 2009

Media Concentration: Interactive, Multimedia • Subject Concentration: Urban Studies

Brandeis University, Waltham, Massachusetts

Bachelors of Arts, May 2003

Major: English and American Literature • Minor: Secondary Education Program

Deans List Honors for Academic Excellence 2003

Denmark International Study Program, Copenhagen, Denmark January 2002 – May 2002

- ›Selected to study abroad at the University of Copenhagen, School of Humanities and Social Sciences.
- ›Studied with international professors and students concentrating on Scandinavian literature, Nordic mythology, and beginning Danish Language
- ›Actively participated in humanities study tours in Russia, Western Denmark, and the island of Bornholm

TECHNOLOGY SKILLS

Adobe Flash and Photoshop, Final Cut Pro, Macintosh OS X, Canon EOS Rebel XTi Camera, Marantz PMD660, Sony PD170 Video Cameras, Social Media Web Tools