3. Teaching Interests/Experience

- (a) At IGIDR, since 2006, I have been offering an optional course 'Contemporary Issues in Human Development and Policy'. Keeping the people-centric approach in the background, it discusses conceptual aspects such as Sen's Capability and Rawls' Justice among others, issues of measurement, governance and participation, developmental issues of education and health and other related areas. For hands-on experience, students have to do a field-survey as part of the course requirement. This course evolved out of an earlier course 'Themes in Human Deprivation' that I had coordinated and offered in 2003. I have also coordinated the 'Research Methodology' course for M.Phil./Ph.D. students who joined in August 2010. During 2001-02, at the Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Pune, I had taught 'Statistical Prerequisites' and a module on 'Microeconomics'.

4. Educational Qualifications
