CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT AND INVITED TRAININGS

Empower YOUTH Program: Developed curriculum using the five social and emotional principles as the foundation. This program is in partnership with Prevent Child Abuse America and Sigma Delta Tau National Sorority. The program is delivered by Sigma Delta Tau chapters across the nation to middle school young women. New lessons are currently being added and trainings take place annually (2014-current).

Peer CELL (Caring through Empathy, Listening, and Linking) Program: This program is designed as a comprehensive peer helping program to address suicide prevention/intervention as well as the effects of trauma on youth in schools serving students in grades 6-12. The curriculum consists of a student manual/lessons and a trainer manual. (2015-current).

Teaching the Teen Brain: This program was developed as a tool to be used with positive school discipline practices. It is a six-hour training targeted to teachers, school counselors, and other school employees to increase knowledge on adolescent brain development as well as increase skills and strategies to address (and prevent) challenging student behavior. (2015-current). [Approximately 120 Indiana educators have been trained to date.]
