Chinese Identity in Post-Suharto Indonesia
Culture, Politics and Media

CHANG-YAU HOON

“This theoretically sophisticated, informative and highly readable book is the best thing I have read on what it means to be ‘Chinese’ in Indonesia since the fall of President Suharto in 1998.” Professor Charles A. Coppel, Author of Indonesian Chinese in Crisis (1983) and Studying Ethnic Chinese in Indonesia (2002)

“C.Y. Hoon skillfully navigates the treacherous waters of post-Suharto (1998) ethnic politics in Jakarta... This engrossing study heralds a new generation of Chinese diaspora scholarship.”
Professor Evelyn Hu-Dehart, Director of Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America, Professor of History and Ethnic Studies, Brown University, USA

“This is an important and thoughtful book on the identity of the Chinese in Indonesia since the fall of Suharto... Best of all, the book presents sophisticated concepts and complex processes in a clear and readable way.” Professor Lyn Parker, Author of From Subjects to Citizens: Balinese Villagers in the Indonesian Nation-State (2003), and Editor of The Agency of Women in Asia (2005) and Women and Work in Indonesia (2007)

“Hoon’s keen insight into the dynamics of pribumi-Chinese relationship, Chinese publications and effects of policies on Chinese Indonesians is one of the pioneers in post-Suharto era Chinese study.” International Institute for Asian Studies Newsletter

“Hoon’s study especially fits neatly into an emerging scholarship by overseas or ethnic Chinese exploring and studying ‘Chineseness’.” Indonesia (Cornell University)
