UMSL Faculty Expertise

Eamonn Wall, University of Missouri-St. Louis

Available at: https://works.bepress.com/eamonn-wall/65/
Eamonn Wall
Smurfit-Stone Corporation Professor in Irish Studies
Professor of English
314-516-5589
walle@umsl.edu
https://works.bepress.com/eamonn-wall/

Research Specializations:
Contemporary Irish and Scottish Literature
Poetry

Media Expertise:
Contemporary Irish-American Literature and Culture

Biographical Narrative:
Eamonn Wall is the Smurfit-Stone Corporation Professor of Irish Studies and a professor of English, holding joint appointments in International Studies and Programs and the Department of English. He teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in Irish, English, and Scottish literature.

For International Studies and Programs, he curates the “Irish Lectures and Concerts Series”—an initiative that brings the best of Irish and Irish American scholars, writers, and musicians to our campus to lecture and perform. Eamonn Wall is also the director of UMSL’s “Summer Study Abroad Program in Galway, Ireland,” held at NUI-Galway each June and July.