The Importance of Gestures in Learning

Gale Stam, National Louis University

Available at: https://works.bepress.com/gale_stam/39/
You are cordially invited to a public presentation:

The Importance of Gestures in Learning

Presented by: Gale Stam, Ph.D., Professor, Department of Psychology
National Louis University, Chicago, IL USA

Gestures can influence the effectiveness of our teaching. How do we, as teachers, use movement and gesture to bring across what we mean? Is gesture the secret to what makes for more effective teaching? Can inappropriate gestures restrict learning?

Monday, 29 July 2013, 16:00 – 17:30
Venue: Humanities – Graduate School Building
HUM LT2

Please RSVP to Wadeeah Fisher
Tel: 021 650 3584 • Fax: 021 650 5569 • E-mail: wadeeah.fisher@uct.ac.za
www.sdu.uct.ac.za