

San Jose State University

From the Selected Works of Gil J. Villagran

July 7, 2014

Protesters Should Research Own Nation

Gil J. Villagran

Available at: https://works.bepress.com/gil_villagran/72/

July 7 Readers' letters: People in fear for their lives will always run from the danger

From Mercury News readers

POSTED: 07/04/2014 06:41:57 PM PDT 2 COMMENTS | UPDATED: ABOUT A YEAR AGO

Protesters should research own nation

The Murrieta protesters against Border Patrol detention of "illegal aliens" in "their community" are willfully ignorant of why children and mothers with babies would leave their homes on a perilous journey infested with drug gangs and human traffickers, to a country they know does not want them and likely will deport them. Ironically, the protesters seem oblivious to America's origin by illegal immigrants to the so-called new world. Patriots would have done well to spend their Fourth of July weekend researching our own history.

The U.S. has a sordid history of fomenting military takeovers of democratically elected governments in almost every nation south of our border. Well-documented death squad murders amount to 35,000 El Salvadorans and 42,000 Guatemalans killed. The Honduran military's murder tally began yet another cycle of murder after the most recent U.S. supported coup in 2009.

People in fear for their lives run from the danger, even when their fate is unknown. Better to flee to an unknown fate in the U.S. than to await the well-known fate: kidnap, rape and murder in their home.

Gil Villagrán, MSW

School of Social Work San Jose State University

MONDAY, JULY 7, 2014

Opinion

www.mercurynews.com/opinion

Sharon Ryan

President and Publisher, Bay Area News Group CFO, California Newspapers Partnership

David J. Butler

Editor and Senior Vice President

Bert Robinson

Managing Editor Content

Randall Keith

Managing Editor Digital

Tiffany Grandstaff

Managing Editor Presentation and News Production

Barbara J. Marshman

Editorial Page Editor

Michael Turpin

Executive Vice President and Chief Revenue Officer

Lisa Buckingham

Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Joe Boessenecker

Senior Vice President Operations

Dan Smith

Vice President Audience

Editorial board members: Michele Lew, community member; Ed Clendaniel, editorial writer; Barbara J. Marshman; Sharon Ryan; David J. Butler

Readers' letters

Protesters should research own nation

The Murrieta protesters against Border Patrol detention of "illegal aliens" in "their community" are willfully ignorant of why children and mothers with babies would leave their homes on a perilous journey infested with drug gangs and human traffickers, to a country they know does not want them and likely will deport them. Ironically, the protesters seem oblivious to America's origin by illegal immigrants to the so-called new world. Patriots would have done well to spend their Fourth of July weekend researching our own history.

The U.S. has a sordid history of fomenting military takeovers of democratically elected governments in almost every nation south of our border. Well-documented death squad murders amount to 35,000 El Salvadorans and 42,000 Guatemalans killed. The Honduran military's murder tally began yet another cycle of murder after the most recent U.S. supported coup in 2009.

People in fear for their lives run from the danger, even when their fate is unknown. Better to flee to an unknown fate in the U.S. than to await the well-known fate: kidnap, rape and murder in their home.

Gil Villagrán, MSW
School of Social Work