Amit Shah’s vicious campaign in Muzaffarnagar revives fears the BJP’s PM candidate must address

B Pichai Amit Shah’s ability to tighten the noose around Mamata Banerjee’s TMC has never been more evident than it is today. In a strategic move that appeared almost telegraphic, the BJP has declared Muzaffarnagar in Uttar Pradesh one of its ‘focus constituencies’ — a term that connotes the communal violence that was central to the formation of the country. This new strategy between communities. Shah’s rhetoric is also diametrically opposed to what the AAP is trying to portray. It is not merely a case of one side using law and order to protect its interests. The AAP is not just about the interests of the city or the region; it is about the larger national interest.

The TMC’s response has been to allegations that it is being used as a tool to undermine the party’s authority in West Bengal. The TMC’s response has been to deny any such links and to affirm its commitment to democracy and anti-corruption. The TMC has also accused the TMC of attempting to divide the country.
