Research and Teaching Interests

- Public Policy Politics of risk perception; science and environmental policy; public support for national security and anti-terrorism policies; policy analysis; theories of the public policy process; public opinion and public policy.
- Methodology Philosophy of science; multivariate statistical analysis; limited dependent variable analysis; dynamic programming modeling; descriptive and inferential statistical techniques.
- Survey Research Public opinion measurement; contingent value measurement; survey sampling; survey design; focus group research; verbal protocol research techniques; web/internet survey design and implementation.

Service Appointments and Activities

Editor, Policy Studies Journal (2003-present)

Research journal of the Public Policy Section of the American Political Science Association and the Policy Studies Organization.

Member, National Research Council Committees (1996 to 2007)

Served on Committees for review of designs for chemical weapons destruction; Committee for review of transportation of spent nuclear fuel to Yucca Mountain repository.

Panelist, National Science Foundation (2000-2004)

Panel reviewer for the Decision, Risk and Management Science Section of the National Science Foundation

Director, UNM Survey Research Center (1988-2001)

Created the UNM Survey Research Center in 1988. National, regional, and statewide data collected by the SRC is currently in use in a wide range of academic and policy research projects.

Director, UNM–Institute for Public Policy (1987-2001)

As director of this research organization, obtained over $6.0 million in research contracts and grants. The Institute for Public Policy conducted a wide array of academic and applied public policy research projects.

Editor, Policy Currents (1997-1999)

Newsletter of the Public Policy Section of the American Political Science Association.
