Welcome

Jayne M Comstock, Butler University

Welcome to "Advancing the Higher Education Agenda." My hope is that this new blog becomes a nexus connecting all of us who get up every day working to improve access to quality higher education, i.e., people in all sectors of higher education, those creating public policy and those making funding decisions. Through this forum we can engage in substantive discussions about topics we struggle with and those on which we want to take a stand. Look for a first post soon, and please join the discussion.
