Britain is India's Enemy, not Friend

Great Britain is India’s enemy, not friend.

Great Britain is a great thief who once broke into the Indian land, stole gigantic amounts of valuable stuff, tortured, humiliated and butchered incalculable, innocent people, and simply went back.

If someone breaks into my house with weapons and armour, grabs my wealth and my possessions, rapes my wife and my sisters, kills my brothers and my uncles, and goes away, will I just be content and celebrate my freedom from the thief or will I rush after the thief, get all of my stuff back, and make sure the thief is punished and get justice??
