How can Government Lawyers contribute to Accountability?

From presentation to the Administrative Law Conference of the Section of Administrative Law and Regulatory Practice, American Bar Association, 16 October 2014, Washington DC.

1. Attend to your client’s interests, but never let them override your independent obligations as a lawyer.

2. Be true to constitutional principle, not legalistic arguments.

3. Consider what the Supreme Court would say about your advice, even if they will never see it.

4. Remember that your advice reflects on your professional credibility and may define your professional reputation.

5. Do justice according to law, to uphold the rule of law.
