MARKS
The term “black and white drawing” may be defined as the linear realization of visual objects, concepts, emotions, and fantasies, including symbols and even abstract forms. In a return to the basics, Marks, steps back and examines the traditional and versatile medium of black ink, that dates back to the birth of the medium, by the Chinese, in 3000 BC...bla, bla, bla. (actual introduction) We've gathered a talented group of top drawers and asked them to contribute black and white art for a group show entitled “Marks, A Black & White Exhibition.”

Featured artists include Evan Hecox, James Jarvis, Andy Jenkins, Henry Jones, Randy Laybourne, Nathan Lewis, John McGuire, Travis Millard, Jason Polan and Michael Sieben.
