March 15, 2005

E-mail correspondence: Professor J.R. Pole to Seth Barrett Tillman (July 2, 2004)

Seth Barrett Tillman, None

Available at: https://works.bepress.com/seth_barrett_tillman/231/
Good fortune with your work!

The last stages (I hope) of getting my Federalist through the press and I fear that I can't take this further.

sense after a "confused" debate. You may quote that if you feel it supports, I am preoccupied right now with Madison "may have been uncertain as to what was being achieved." That would make purpose to say that Madison "may have failed. Nor can I exclude the possibility that I might have been confused. Would it still your hesitate to commit myself in print to the suggestion that Madison might have been confused--most

Friday, July 2, 2004 8:15 AM

To: "Seth'llman" <sarahillman@yahoo.com>
From: "Jack Po" <jcssge@msnworld.com>

Re: Quick query?