SCHOLARLY IMPACT STATEMENT

I was ranked (January 1, 2016) by the Social Science Research Network among the top 250 law authors using total number of downloads for all papers. My current total download count on SSRN exceeds 17,000; on Berkeley Press, it exceeds 37,000; and on Resesarch Gate, it exceeds 1,000. This is a total of over 50,000 downloads. More than a dozen journal articles—all by academics—have been written responding to my publications. These responsive articles were published: in 2005, by Gary S. Lawson; in 2006, by Sanford V. Levinson; in 2007, by Aaron-Andrew P. Bruhl, and also by Brian C. Kalt (a response and a rejoinder); in 2008, by Steven G. Calabresi (a rebuttal and a closing statement); in 2009, by Robert F. Blomquist, also by Saikrishna B. Prakash, and also by Stephen Michael Sheppard; in 2010, by Jeremy D. Bailey, and also by Bruce G. Peabody; in 2012, by Zephyr Teachout (an opening statement); and, in 2014, by Zephyr Teachout (a reply). In 2014, Professor Peter C. Hoffer, Professor Brian C. Kalt, Buckner F. Melton, Jr., and I participated in an exchange. The exchange was introduced with a foreward by Michael Stern.

My corporate law publications have been cited by the Delaware Court of Chancery, Massachusetts Superior Court (Suffolk County), in two filings before the Arizona Superior Court (Maricopa County), in eight legal briefs or other filings before the Delaware Supreme Court and the Delaware Court of Chancery, in a filing before the Indiana Court of Appeals, in sixteen books and treatises, in six journal articles, in one annotation, in two bibliographies (including one non-English bibliography), in seven newsletters and conference papers, and in eight blog posts. In total, there are over forty citations to my corporate law publications, including citations in books and treatises on contract law, corporate law, law & economics, legal opinion letters, mergers & acquisitions, securities transfers, and the Uniform Commercial Code.

My publications have been cited by Justice Antonin Scalia (Supreme Court of the United States), Judge D. Arthur Kelsey (Virginia), and Justice Peter M. Lauriat (Massachusetts), and I was personally acknowledged by Judge Peter Spiller (New Zealand). Among my twenty-three (published) journal articles, five have been reprinted or republished. Each of my journal articles and opinion editorials is cited in academic, professional, or government publications, or in legal briefs and submissions (before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Delaware Supreme Court, other courts of record, and the Irish Department of Environment, Community and Local Government). There are over three hundred and fifty citations to my articles appearing in over one hundred and fifty authored and anonymous treatises, annotations, and bibliographies, books and case books, doctoral dissertations, government publications (including a United States Senate document and a Congressional Research Service report), academic and professional newsletters and reports, working papers, legal briefs, and (U.S. and European) course syllabi, and in over one hundred and seventy five journal articles, including articles appearing in peer-reviewed journals, e.g., African Journal of Legal Studies, Alberta Law Review, American Indian Law Review, American Journal of Comparative Law, Annual Review of Political Science, British Journal of American Legal Studies, Constitutional Commentary, Election Law Journal (four different articles), European Review of Private Law, Journal of the Gilded Age and Progressive Era, Journal of Politics and Law

(Canada), Law & History Review, Melbourne University Law Review, Monash University Law Review (Australia) (two different articles), Oxford Pro Bono Publico Programme Paper, Presidential Studies Quarterly (two different articles), Supreme Court Law Review (Canada), and Tel Aviv University Law Review, in practitioner-oriented journals, e.g., The Business Lawyer, Michigan Business Law Journal, Review of Securities and Commodities Regulation, and Texas Journal of Business Law, Virginia Bar Association News, and in other highly regarded American law journals, e.g., Boston University Law Review (five different articles), California Law Review (two different articles), Cornell Law Review, Duke Law Journal (three different articles), Georgetown Law Journal (three different articles), Harvard Journal of Law and Public Policy, Harvard Law & Policy Review, Harvard Law Review (two different articles), Indiana Law Journal, Michigan Law Review (two different articles), Northwestern University Law Review (four different articles), Notre Dame Law Review (two different articles), Stanford Law Review, Texas Law Review (three different articles), UCLA Law Review (two different articles), University of Chicago Legal Forum, University of Pennsylvania Journal of Constitutional Law, University of Pennsylvania Law Review, Virginia Law Review, William & Mary Law Review (two different articles), and Yale Law Journal (two different articles). I have been personally acknowledged or thanked in some sixty publications (including U.S. and non-U.S. publications).

Finally, my publications have been discussed or cited on Wikipedia, on over seventy law-related websites and blogs, including, U.S. and non-U.S. academic law blogs, blogs discussing private and public law, practitioners' and law firm websites and blogs (e.g., Goodwin Procter LLP's website), and blogs discussing current news and politics, e.g., the American Constitution Society's ACSBlog, Jack Balkin's Balkinization, National Review's The Corner (four posts), Glenn Reynolds' Instapundit (a dozen posts just in 2015 alone), and Memeorandum (nine posts). Moreover, I have been cited on several websites discussing Irish law, including: Paul MacMahon's Ex Tempore, Rossa McMahon's Clatter of the Law, and Eoin O'Dell's Cearta.

My publications, including working papers, and their abstracts are generally available on <http://ssrn.com/author=345891> and on http://works.bepress.com/seth_barrett_tillman/.
