GOVT 340 – International Relations (2017)

Steven Alan Samson

Available at: https://works.bepress.com/steven_samson/
I. Course Description  Techniques for managing and resolving conflict in international relations. Emphasis is on current international issues like U.S. arms policy and U.S. policy in the Middle East.

II. Rationale  This junior level course is designed to encourage students to apply a Biblical Christian worldview and a limited government/free market philosophy to a study of the relations between sovereign states and other international actors, such as intergovernmental organizations (IGOs) such as the United Nations as well as non-governmental organizations (NGOs). Special attention will be given to the causes of war, security and peace issues, and the operation of the international political economy. Given the rapidly changing international climate, current events topics and readings will occasionally added and discussed in class.

III. Prerequisite Statement  GOVT 200, GOVT 210, or GOVT 220

It is the student’s responsibility to make up any prerequisite deficiencies, as stated in the Liberty University Catalog, which would prevent the successful completion of this course.

IV. Materials List

Each required book and/or reading will be represented on one or more tests as shown on the Class Schedule. The Nye, Mosher, Codevilla, Pacepa, and Pillsbury texts are noted on the Class Schedule by an abbreviation: N. 1 = Nye, chapter 1.

Required (five books):

- Samson, Steven. GOVT 340 International Relations Spiral-Bound Reader [S.]

Optional for a Replacement Test:

Newspapers:

Internet Public Library: http://www.ipl.org/div/news/ (newspaper links by country)
Newseum: Today's Front Pages: http://www.newseum.org/todaysfrontpages/flash/
See Bibliography

V. Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Students will memorize and apply a variety of social science concepts and analytical tools to the study of international relations.
2. Students will recognize and be able to locate approximately 170 countries on outline maps.
3. Students will distinguish competing approaches to and schools of thought within the academic discipline of international relations.
4. Students will appraise key actors, events, and strategic factors at the systems, state, and individual levels of analysis related to the practice of international relations.
5. Students will compare the history, geography, economies, governing institutions, and political behavior of contemporary nations, states, and international entities as major factors that shape international decision-making.
6. Students will demonstrate their knowledge and comprehension of the readings, lectures, and study aids through a series of objective tests and essay questions.
7. Students will thereby become better equipped to understand, participate in, and evaluate international political processes.

VI. Assignments/Requirements

1. Reading: a) Each student is responsible for completing reading assignments listed on the Class Schedule prior to class. b) The emphasis is on close and careful reading of the texts (what the French call explication de texte). c) Keeping a loose leaf notebook of class materials is highly recommended. d) The schedule may change from time to time requiring adjustment of the schedule along the way. Changes to the schedule on the syllabus will be posted on Blackboard with the date of the change. e) Recent articles may be posted periodically and usually included as optional sources for answering short essay questions. f) Collateral (optional) reading is for honors students, graduate students, and others who are interested.

2. Workbook Purchase of the workbook is mandatory. Chapter outlines provide a summary of the structure and important points. Review items are related to specific test questions. Study questions are designed to help stimulate analysis. Bold-print calls attention to key concepts. Bracketed words, phrases, and sentences are inserted into the text to provide definitions, translations, contexts, and/or commentary. All of the readings and study aids are designed to elicit the learning outcomes described above.

3. Class Participation is an essential part of class. Textbook chapters, collateral readings, and current events will be the subject of class commentary and discussions. It is recommended that students follow http://www.stratfor.com/, particularly George Friedman's analyses, and http://www.atimes.com/, particularly the Chatham House Rules. The full Stratfor service is obtainable on campus through the library’s database links under S. Students should come prepared to discuss textbook readings as well as current events.
VII. Grading Policies

1. Tests (1000 points): a) Students will be tested on the lecture and reading material through a series of seven tests and a map test. Tests will normally be taken during the last 25 minutes of the class period. The entire class period will be given to tests with short essays. b) At least six tests, including the final exam, must be completed in order to complete the course. c) The final grade will be calculated on the combined total of six recorded test scores along with a separate map test. The lowest test score of the first six tests will be exempted from the calculation and hidden from view. d) In preparing for objective tests, please note the review section for the readings. The major readings in the workbook, those posted on Blackboard, and those linked to the syllabus have review sections at the end of the study aids for each reading or chapter. Each review item represents a specific question that may be on the test (and most will be on the test). e) A short essay will be included on the second, fourth, and sixth tests. A selection of essay questions (from which you may choose one) will be posted about a week in advance of each test. The questions will be drawn primarily from designated short readings (posted on Blackboard or on the syllabus). They are noted under short essay for each particular test. Advice for writing a good essay: Start with a thesis statement, develop an essay point-by-point using specific examples, and then draw a conclusion based on these points. Make sure you answer all parts of the question and pay attention to specific instructions. The idea is to integrate the material and show a command of the subject. f) It is always wise to check Blackboard or e-mail for possible schedule changes. g) A world map test is scheduled for Monday, October 2. Students will identify by number 80 countries shown on a collection of four maps that will accompany the test. The raw score, ranging from 0-80 will be doubled and recorded on Gradebook. Map Exercises may be found at various sites, such as the following: http://www.ilike2learn.com/ilike2learn/africa.html

2. Makeup Tests: a) Make-up tests have become a logistical nightmare due to the quantity of tests, university-sponsored activities, and other reasons for absence, especially due to receiving last minute requests via e-mail. Please do not e-mail me about make-up tests or absences (except for prolonged absences). So here is a set of procedures: 1) General rule number one: The test must be taken at the scheduled date and time in the scheduled classroom. 2) General rule number two: Unless you have an excused absence, the first test you miss will be counted as the low test score, which is automatically dropped before the final exam. The second test you miss will require you to take the optional test during the final exam period. 3) General rule number three: If you miss the test due to a required university-sponsored activity, military exercise, documented illness, or family emergency (for which you bring documentation from Student Affairs that I may keep for my records), please see me at the end of class on the date of returning to class. I can then arrange for a test to be sent to the Testing Center. If you fail to do this, general rule number two will apply. For excused absences: The make-up test must be taken within one week except in cases where I have been notified of a prolonged absence. I will not normally post the scores of make-up tests until at least a week after the regular test. Please do not request to take a test early. An optional replacement test on either the Mosher or Gold books will be made available during the final exam period.

3. Test Scores and Final Grades: a) Raw scores for the tests, including any extra points given to compensate for problematic questions and 0-4 points for short essays, will be multiplied by four and recorded in the Gradebook section of Blackboard. Raw scores for the short essays range from 0=Unacceptable or No Answer, 1=Poor, 2=Fair or Average, 3=Good, and 4=Superior. b) Each objective question is worth one point (raw score) and four points when multiplied to be recorded on Blackboard. The regular Scantron tests are composed of a minimum of 35 questions (or 33 objective questions and one short essay when a short essay is included) and are worth 140 points maximum. d) Short essay points are included in the recorded score. e) Only five of the first six Scantron tests will be counted in your grade; the lowest score will be dropped following the sixth test. This will allow students to calculate how many points they need to score on the final test. f) The Map Test is worth 160 points and, like all tests, may be taken only once. g) The final Scantron test is mandatory. It may not be taken prior to the scheduled final exam period and no replacement test may be substituted for it. h) The final grade will be determined by the total number of after the final test has been recorded.

4. Optional: There is no extra credit, but a student may take a replacement test on the Gold or Mosher chapters during the final exam period and substitute it for a low test score on one other of the first six regular tests (after one has already been dropped), but no more than one substitution is permitted.

5. Students seeking Honors credit may read one of the suggested books or one on the bibliography. A 7-10 page analysis of the book and an oral presentation in class are normally required. In some cases, a special essay and short answer test (in some cases, an objective test is available) on it at the end of the term. Alternatively, students may read chapters 8-10 of William C. Martel’s Grand Strategy in Theory and Practice and (individually or as a team) and do a PowerPoint presentation on highlights of American strategic thinking. Honors students are also strongly encouraged to follow the Collateral readings, which further develop some of the major themes of the course.

VIII. Attendance Policies

Attendance: Absences for 300-400 level courses fall into two categories:

1. University Approved Absences
   a. University Approved Absences include Liberty University sponsored events, athletic competition, and other Provost-approved absences.

   b. The student must provide written documentation in advance for University Approved Absences

   c. Work missed for University-approved absences may be made up.

2. Student Elective Absences
   a. While the University believes that consistent attendance in all classes is the largest contributor to students earning good grades, the University Attendance Policy allows students in upper-level classes the opportunity to make their own decisions concerning attendance.

   b. Work missed for Student Elective Absences may be made up at the discretion of the faculty member. Questions regarding missed work for Student Elective Absences must be addressed by the student with the professor within one week of returning to class. In cases where this is not possible, the student must notify the Professor in writing of the circumstances impacting his or her absence. The student may appeal the Professor’s decision in writing to the respective Chair within one week. Final appeals may be made to the Dean in writing within one week of the Chair’s decision and the Dean’s decision is final.
c. When circumstances result in excessive absences (e.g., serious medical illness, family crisis), upon return to campus the student shall communicate in writing with the Registrar’s Office (Registrar@liberty.edu) and provide an explanation of his or her situation with appropriate documentation. The Registrar will consult with the faculty member before making the final decision and will notify, in writing, the student and the faculty member.

d. Students are required to attend on all test dates. Test dates may change but everyone will be notified by e-mail if that occurs. Absence on a test date will require prior notification or a subsequent excuse from the university, a medical doctor, or a military unit officer for those who are in the military. This also applies to anyone who uses Testing Services to make-up a test. Prolonged absences without notice of a week or longer will result in a university warning. If the absence persists and no communication follows, it may lead to being dropped from the roster with an FN.

NOTE: Although you may not currently be concerned about it, in the near future you will need faculty members to give letters of reference, recommendations for employment, or letters of recommendation for graduate school. Your attendance, punctuality, appearance, and attitude will be areas of interest to those requesting these letters. In addition, some of you will need a security check for your future job. Be aware that cheating and plagiarism are causes for a permanent record being placed in your student folder, which will be consulted during a background security check.

IX. Other Policies

Dress Code
Students are expected to come to class dressed in a manner consistent with The Liberty Way.

Honor Code
We, the students, faculty, and staff of Liberty University, have a responsibility to uphold the moral and ethical standards of this institution and personally confront those who do not.

Academic Misconduct
Academic misconduct includes: academic dishonesty, plagiarism, and falsification. See The Liberty Way for specific definitions, penalties, and processes for reporting.

Disability Statement
Students with a documented disability may contact the Office of Disability Academic Support (ODAS) in DeMoss Hall 1050 for arrangements for academic accommodations. For all disability testing accommodation requests (i.e. quieter environment, extended time, oral testing, etc.) the Testing Center (Religion 119) is the officially designated place for all tests administered outside of the regular classroom.

Drop/Add Policy
A Fall/Spring course may be dropped without a grade, tuition, and fee charges within the first five days of the semester. From the sixth day until the end of the tenth week, a Fall/Spring course may be withdrawn with a grade of W or WF.

Classroom Policies
The inappropriate use of technology, such as cell phones, iPods, laptops, calculators, etc. in the classroom is not tolerated. Other disruptive behavior in the classroom is not tolerated. Students who engage in such misconduct will be subject the penalties and processes as written in The Liberty Way.
Food is not permitted. Neither is gum-chewing. Students who are not in appropriate campus attire will not be admitted to class. Caps may not be worn in class.

Helms School of Government Policies

Dress Code: Students are expected to come to class dressed in a manner consistent with Helms School of Government Dress Code and the Liberty Way. Failure to comply may result in being dismissed from class, and submission of the student’s name to the Office of Student Conduct. For more information please visit http://www.liberty.edu/index.cfm?PID=19739.

Plagiarism and Multiple Submissions of Papers:
Plagiarism is a serious offense and utilizing the work of others without proper citation is a clear violation of University policy. However, no clear directive has been established within the Helms School of Government as to the permissibility of a student submitting substantially the same paper to satisfy writing requirements in different courses. Effective spring 2007, any writing assignment required for a Helms School of Government course must be an original composition drafted specifically for the individual course. When a course requirement in an upper division course builds upon a previously researched topic, and the student desires to utilize his/her prior submission as a foundational document for the new course assignment, he/she may bring a copy of the previous paper to the current professor. The professor will review with the student the additional research and writing elements needed to complete the current assignment without violating this policy.

Christian Service:
For those students not already involved in Christian Service, see the professor for details and other information if interested.

QUOTATIONS

“The Balkans are not worth the bones of a single Pomeranian grenadier.” – Otto von Bismarck at the Congress of Berlin, 1878

On the late Robert Conquest: Conquest’s first two books, published in 1955, were a collection of poems and a science-fiction novel. In an interview with the Los Angeles Times in 1986, he said that dabbling in science fiction was useful in getting the proper perspective on the Soviets. Western words like good and evil didn’t capture their behavior, he said, because “they’re not bad or good as we’d be bad or good.”

“It’s far better to look at them as Martians than as people like us,” he said. “George Orwell said that it needs an effort of the imagination as well as of the intellect to understand the Soviet Union.” -- Brenda Cronin and Alan Cullison, “Anglo-American historian and poet who chronicled Stalin’s excesses dies in Palo Alto, Calif.,” WSJ, Aug. 4, 2015

Robert Conquest on Lenin and Stalin: There was a great Marxist named Lenin Who did two or three million men in.
—That’s a lot to have done in,
But where he did one in
That grand Marxist Stalin did ten in.

George Washington (Farewell Address): “The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge, natural to party dissension, which in different ages and countries has perpetrated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism. But this leads at length to a more formal and permanent despotism. The disorders and miseries, which result, gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; and sooner or later the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his own elevation, on the ruins of Public Liberty.”

G. K. Chesterton (September 28, 1918): “If we say that this war was everybody’s fault, everybody will know that any war he makes will be called everybody’s fault—that is, nobody’s fault. Every man will know that he can at any moment commit a crime which will be called an accident. Every ruler will know that he can, whenever he pleases, perform an act of aggression which will be called an act of God. Or rather, it will not even be called anything so mystical and disputable as an act of God—it will actually be called an act of humanity. We shall be solemnly told that “all nations are equally to blame” [cf. Dore Gold on “moral equivalence”) for something which one nation does whenever that nation chooses to do it.”

Henry Kissinger: “In this world, it is often dangerous to be an enemy of the United States, but to be a friend is fatal.”

Angelo Codevilla’s No Victory, No Peace, “Heresy and Us”: “[A]nti-Western terrorism results from a war within Islam that is far more serious for Muslims than for the rest of us, because the Wahhabis’ ideas imply irreconcilable enmity against other Muslims first, and then against others. Western elites, religiously challenged as they are, don't understand the mixture of threat and temptation that the Wahhabis pose to the Muslim world because they do not know how analogous Christian heresies have roiled Western civilization. . . . Rather than giving the Wahhabis defeats, the West has given them victories that have strengthened the movement's hand immeasurably in its decisive intramural battles. In sum, the West has let the Wahhabis set up bases outside the reach of their Muslim enemies, has let its terrorism run rampant, and has safeguarded its main base, Saudi Arabia, from the natural consequences of its rulers' Faustian bargain."
