not conceited

Tara Thompson, Collin College

not conceited - convinced everything i learn, i learn with ease texts prove simple pleasures equations, like butter, melt in my mind everything i feel, i feel more deeply emotions are truer and more profound anger, sorrow, hate, pain maximum everything i dream, i dream fantastic the netherworld is always with me and i am there in flesh and psyche everything i say, i say with flourish words on my tongue, waiting my discourse brings others to life everything i think, i think most intensely ideas and concepts, float like bubbles popping every second of my life everything i see, i see through clear eyes spotting a liar from a mile away envisioning emotions without words everything i want, i want and get without even trying most times no asking or begging or pleading everything i know, i know i am not conceited, only convinced of the facts as I see them
