May 12th 2016, 20:06, by Smith, Kevin, Hickerson, Tom, Macklin, Lisa, Oberlander, Cyril

What is the mission of library publishing? How does it align with the mission of the library? The university? How does it differ from the mission of other publishing organizations, and in what ways does it vary from library to library? This panel will explore the different policy areas involved in library publishing (including copyright, selection, and assessment) and the ways they align with mission at all levels.
