

Seton Hall University

From the Selected Works of Thomas R. Rondinella

Winter November, 2009

Beating Hearts

Thomas R. Rondinella, Seton Hall University

Available at: https://works.bepress.com/thomas_rondinella/3/

BEATING HEARTS

"Beating Hearts" is a short, nine minute horror film I produced in Brigantine, New Jersey in November 2009. The film was shot in four days, before I began shooting "Good Day For It." The director, Matt Garrett, also directed the feature film "Morris County" that I produced. "Beating Hearts" has garnered some of the best reviews of any project on which I have worked. It has played in fifteen American and international film festivals to date and has won two awards. It will be released on DVD along with "Morris County" later in 2012.

Here is a link to the entire film: click here to link to on-line video (The password is: duckie1979)