COOKING WITH NONNA

"Cooking with Nonna" is a web cooking show shot from November 2008 to December 2010. I produced and directed a total of twenty-four, eleven minute episodes over three seasons. Each show highlighted a recipe from a region of Italy. The host cooked while being taught by an authentic "grandmother" from that region. The show is taped in a studio designed to look like a home kitchen in Montville, NJ with a mixed crew of alumni and current students.

There are talks underway for Season Four and a spin-off reality show.
