The Plight of Balochistan: Light at end of tunnel?

Vikas Kumar
The Supreme Court’s ruling that the national anthem should not be used as a bargaining chip or a quick fix to the threat posed by Pakistan’s insurrection.

Sir, The Supreme Court’s ruling to play the national anthem at the entrance of the Supreme Court premises will be a welcome decision. It is a fitting tribute to the armed forces and the sacrifice they make for the country.

The SC has set a precedent by ruling that the national anthem should not be used as a bargaining chip or a quick fix to the threat posed by Pakistan’s insurrection.

In an important event at the recent Marrakech climate conference, which was of special significance to India, the Indian government made a commitment to the International Solar Alliance (ISA) by over 120 countries. It was a moment of pride for the nation when a person who had burned the national flag was prosecuted for his actions. The court’s protection of freedom of expression was a significant step in the direction of constitutional Amendment. The court’s judgment of the relationship between nationalism and patriotism in the country, and the singing of the anthem need not be added to the list of freedoms that trample on people’s rights. It was a moment of pride for the nation when a person who had burned the national flag was prosecuted for his actions.

The Solar Alliance is a positive move. It is an ambitious project to build a “common platform for fostering collaboration between the countries of the world” and to “advance the cause of the common good”.

Outsourcing is a necessary evil. The tricksters have an obvious incentive to create an enticement not to provide data. In this exercise, we could squarely shift the blame on all criminals and criminals.

The Jagadguru who is graduated from the Jagadguru Sankaracharya of the Jagadguru who is graduated from the Jagadguru Sankaracharya, his writings and teachings have been widely embraced. The tax mantra declared as a new currency era too.

Sir, The Supreme Court ruling to play the national anthem at the entrance of the Supreme Court premises will be a welcome decision. It is a fitting tribute to the armed forces and the sacrifice they make for the country.

The SC has set a precedent by ruling that the national anthem should not be used as a bargaining chip or a quick fix to the threat posed by Pakistan’s insurrection.

In an important event at the recent Marrakech climate conference, which was of special significance to India, the Indian government made a commitment to the International Solar Alliance (ISA) by over 120 countries. It was a moment of pride for the nation when a person who had burned the national flag was prosecuted for his actions. The court’s protection of freedom of expression was a significant step in the direction of constitutional Amendment. The court’s judgment of the relationship between nationalism and patriotism in the country, and the singing of the anthem need not be added to the list of freedoms that trample on people’s rights. It was a moment of pride for the nation when a person who had burned the national flag was prosecuted for his actions.