SPEAK OUT

THINGS TO COME

The policies and working style of the Modi government as regards AAP...appear more inspired by politics than administration. For example, the policy to uproot the teachers and lecturers from their posts and move them to the private sector is completely opposed by the whole society, not only by the teachers but also by the students. The government has not consulted anyone on this issue, and it is not clear whether the policy is even feasible.

Overreach or outreach?

The party believes in changing the way the government works, but its leaders seem to be trapped in present tactics.

Upholding death penalty in Delhi rape case welcome

Sir,
A rape case in New Delhi has come to light which shows the need for a strict law to be enforced. The girl was repeatedly raped by her own family members, and the police are yet to take any action against them. The society demands a strict law to be enforced in such cases.

Sir,
I totally agree with the decision of the Delhi High Court in this case. The death penalty is an effective deterrent to such heinous crimes. The government should make it a priority to implement this law.

Crime and punishment

The court has sentenced the accused to death for the Delhi gang-rape case. The case had sparked a nationwide outrage and led to widespread protests. The court has taken a strong stance against such heinous crimes and has set an example for others who may commit similar crimes in the future.

Regional air link plan laudable

Sir,
The decision to establish a regional air link plan is a welcome development. It will help connect the remote areas of the country with the rest of the world. The plan is likely to boost economic activities and create employment opportunities.

The unlocal media

Sir,
I agree with the statement made by the journalist that the media is becoming more and more biased and one-sided. The media should strive to present a balanced view of events and not just report what suits their agenda.

---

Policy watch

Sir,
The recent decision of the government to withdraw the pending petitions against the implementation of the CAA is a positive step. It will help in maintaining peace and stability in the country. The government should continue to take such steps to ensure a better future for all.
