March 5, 2018

Blame it on Rio: BJP's rise in Nagaland

Vikas Kumar
Tripura triumph: BJP rises in N-E

The BJP has achieved a remarkable electoral feat with its decisive victory in Tripura and a good performance in Nagaland. The BJP has delivered a hung assembly, with Chief Minister Manik Sarkar having a clear record of good administration. The BJP’s success can be attributed to the support of the indigenous people of the state, and it has managed a wholesale shift of votes, which is a significant development. The BJP won 19 seats out of 60, while the Congress, which was the ruling party, lost its majority after securing only 10 seats. The BJP’s stellar performance in assembly elections could swing the votes of the backward communities, according to various analysts.

China’s testing our resolve

It’s a different matter whether China is seeking to destabilise the situation in the region or whether it is simply a way to pressure the government. However, the impact of China’s actions in the region, such as building military infrastructure and deploying troops, is raising concerns among the neighboring countries.

SPEAK OUT

“The brothers and sisters of the Northeast have rejected the politics of hate by unanimously giving the BJP to power.”

MADHUR S MUDGAY

Tuesday between two evils, I always pick the one I never tried before.

IN PERSPECTIVE

Blame it on Rio: BJP’s rise in Nagaland

New Congress chief and NDFB-NPL and went into polls playing both sides.

By Vikas Kumar

Nagaland was by no means a fort in the Northeast. Congress had a soft corner in Nagaland, but the BJP rose to the occasion when the Congress was facing trouble due to several factors, including organisational and leadership issues. Congress, as a result, did not have a clear victory in the state, but the BJP’s performance was significant, as it was able to secure a majority in the assembly. TheBJP’s rise in Nagaland is a clear indication of the political shift in the region, and it is likely to have a significant impact on the future of politics in the Northeast.

TEMPORARY FIXES WON’T DO FOR CITY

The BBMP, the local government body in Bengaluru, has been facing a number of challenges, including the need to improve water supply, sanitation, and waste management. The city’s waste management system is not efficient, and the lack of proper waste disposal facilities is a major concern. The city’s pollution levels are also high, with a significant number of residents complaining about the poor air quality. The city’s political leaders have been facing criticism for their inability to address these issues.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Karnataka polls: no cake for BJP

In the Karnataka assembly elections, the BJP has been unable to secure a majority on its own and is facing a significant challenge. The party has been trying to form a coalition government with various parties, but it has not been able to find a coalition partner that is willing to support it. The party’s failure to win a majority is a significant setback for its political ambitions in the state. The BJP has been facing criticism for its inability to address the state’s pressing issues, and it is likely to face further challenges in the future.

Win for Modi: A win for President’s CS

President’s CS, Pralhad Joshi, has been hailed as the man behind the BJP’s victory in the Tripura assembly elections. The party’s performance in the state is a significant achievement for the government and its leader, President’s CS. The victory is a clear indication of the government’s ability to mobilise resources and make the necessary changes to win elections.

Win for Modii

India has achieved a significant victory in the Tripura assembly elections, with the BJP winning a majority of seats. The party’s success is a clear indication of the government’s ability to mobilise resources and make the necessary changes to win elections.

TRIPURA TRIP: BJP RISES IN N-E

The BJP has achieved a remarkable electoral feat with its decisive victory in Tripura and a good performance in Nagaland. The BJP has delivered a hung assembly, with Chief Minister Manik Sarkar having a clear record of good administration. The BJP’s success can be attributed to the support of the indigenous people of the state, and it has managed a wholesale shift of votes, which is a significant development. The BJP won 19 seats out of 60, while the Congress, which was the ruling party, lost its majority after securing only 10 seats. The BJP’s stellar performance in assembly elections could swing the votes of the backward communities, according to various analysts.

China’s testing our resolve

It’s a different matter whether China is seeking to destabilise the situation in the region or whether it is simply a way to pressure the government. However, the impact of China’s actions in the region, such as building military infrastructure and deploying troops, is raising concerns among the neighboring countries.

SPEAK OUT

“The brothers and sisters of the Northeast have rejected the politics of hate by unanimously giving the BJP to power.”

MADHUR S MUDGAY

Tuesday between two evils, I always pick the one I never tried before.

IN PERSPECTIVE

Blame it on Rio: BJP’s rise in Nagaland

New Congress chief and NDFB-NPL and went into polls playing both sides.

By Vikas Kumar

Nagaland was by no means a fort in the Northeast. Congress had a soft corner in Nagaland, but the BJP rose to the occasion when the Congress was facing trouble due to several factors, including organisational and leadership issues. Congress, as a result, did not have a clear victory in the state, but the BJP’s performance was significant, as it was able to secure a majority in the assembly. TheBJP’s rise in Nagaland is a clear indication of the political shift in the region, and it is likely to have a significant impact on the future of politics in the Northeast.

TEMPORARY FIXES WON’T DO FOR CITY

The BBMP, the local government body in Bengaluru, has been facing a number of challenges, including the need to improve water supply, sanitation, and waste management. The city’s waste management system is not efficient, and the lack of proper waste disposal facilities is a major concern. The city’s pollution levels are also high, with a significant number of residents complaining about the poor air quality. The city’s political leaders have been facing criticism for their inability to address these issues.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Karnataka polls: no cake for BJP

In the Karnataka assembly elections, the BJP has been unable to secure a majority on its own and is facing a significant challenge. The party has been trying to form a coalition government with various parties, but it has not been able to find a coalition partner that is willing to support it. The party’s failure to win a majority is a significant setback for its political ambitions in the state. The BJP has been facing criticism for its inability to address the state’s pressing issues, and it is likely to face further challenges in the future.

Win for Modi: A win for President’s CS

President’s CS, Pralhad Joshi, has been hailed as the man behind the BJP’s victory in the Tripura assembly elections. The party’s performance in the state is a significant achievement for the government and its leader, President’s CS. The victory is a clear indication of the government’s ability to mobilise resources and make the necessary changes to win elections.

Win for Modii

India has achieved a significant victory in the Tripura assembly elections, with the BJP winning a majority of seats. The party’s success is a clear indication of the government’s ability to mobilise resources and make the necessary changes to win elections.